

ANOTHER YEAR AT KRAB

KRAB WEEK CELEBRATIONS

As the mayor declared the week of December 11 officially "KRAB Week," the staff and volunteers, in accordance with the Mayor's proclamation, treated themselves to a well-deserved party at KRAB Central, dining on jellyfish and eggs, sows' udders stuffed with salted sea urchins, patina of brains cooked in milk and eggs, boiled tree fungi with peppered fish-fat sauce, and sea urchins prepared with a sauce of spices, honey, olive oil and eggs; that was followed up with fallow deer roasted with onion sauce, boiled ostrich with sweet sauce, turtle dove boiled in its feathers, roast parrot, dormice stuffed with pork and pine kernels, flamingo boiled with dates; and polished it off in the manner to which radio executives are accustomed with desserts including fricassee of roses with pastry, stoned dates stuffed with nuts and pine kernels and fried in honey, and hot African sweet-wine cakes with honey. Entertainment was provided by Eck and the Resistors, with a lively presentation during intermission by KRAB International News (a wholly owned leisure-time subsidiary of KRABCO) on a recent assassination attempt in the Isle of Wight, alluding that "Nott met Shott. Nott shot at Shott and Shott shot at Nott. One was shot, but whether Nott shot Shott or Shott shot Nott could not be told. Nott should not have been shot." In attendance at the lavish festivities were a fleet of ships, a flock of sheep, a bevy of girls, a pack of wolves, a gang of thieves, a host of angels, a shoal of porpoises, a herd of buf-faloes, a troop of children, a covey of part-ridges, a galaxy of beauties, a horde of ruf-fians, and a swarm of locusts.

You should have been there.

TOWARDS A GRASSROOTS FOREIGN POLICY

KRAB's 7-month series on U.S. foreign policy, Towards a Grassroots Foreign Policy, begins January with a special program concluding our look at the Trilateral partnership of Japan, North America, and Western Europe. The public forum will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 4, at 8 pm, at the Queen Anne High School library, and the subject will be Economic Recovery and the threat of Protectionism, the specter of trade war which, as International News listeners know, threatens to tear apart the alliance. Speakers will be Michihiko Ueda, Weyerhaeuser Co., Lawrence Kenny, AFL-CIO, and Prof. John Makin, Univ. of Washington Economics Dept. Radio programs around this Weds. forum will be Monday, Thursday, and Friday, as usual. We then move on to North/South Relations, or the relations between developed and developing nations. These public forums will return to our usual Tuesday night schedule, as follows:

- Jan 10 THE DIMENSIONS OF INTERDEPENDENCE
Speakers: Profs. Tagi Sagafi-Nejad, Lyman Legters, and Douglass North, UW, and Olga Talamante, AFSC.
- Jan. 17 U.S. INVESTMENT IN THE THIRD WORLD
Speakers: Profs. Richard Moxon, Fred Truitt, Anthony Tinker, and Richard Huber, University of Washington
- Jan. 24 HUMAN RIGHTS AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
Speakers: David Hinkley, Amnesty International, Profs. Daniel Lev and Donald Hellmann, Univ. of Washington
- Jan. 31 THE NEW INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC ORDER
Speakers: Angus Archer, United Nations, and others to be announced

These Tuesday forums in January will also take place at 8 pm in the library of Queen Anne H.S., 2nd and Galer, between the towers on top of Queen Anne Hill. All are invited and there is no admission charge.

For KRAB radio shows, here's the format: Every Monday night at 7:30, right after the International News, we broadcast a half-hour introductory program on the week's topic, featuring interviews with State Dept. Officers. Then on Thursday nights at 9:30 and again Friday afternoons at 3:00, we broadcast an edited one hour tape of the forum. For details, see the program listings.

Future programs in this series will include the United Nations and other multilateral institutions in February, Global Problems such as arms sales and nuclear proliferation in March, and regional conflicts such as the Mid-East in April.

--John B. Smith

PROGRAM NOTES

Shows of interest this month include a poetry reading at and/or gallery by Lawrence Ferlinghetti, Fri., Jan. 6, at 10:30 pm; Raymond Mungo interviewing porno-king Roger Forbes on Fri., Jan. 27, at 10:00 pm; a series of oceanography lectures recorded at the Pacific Science Center covering topics from plate tectonics (i.e., Hollywoods eventual merger with the People's Republic of China) to international law for international waters, which will begin Tues., Jan. 10, at 8:00 pm; a four-part series on altered states of consciousness by resident parapsychologist Don Caldwell, which will occur Friday afternoons at 2:00 pm; a series on the Juvenile Justice system in Washington, examining the implications of the new Juvenile Justice code recently passed by the State Legislature, beginning Tues., Jan. 3, at 10:30 pm; a continuation of Walter Simon's series, "Uncle Wally and the Media", featuring an interview with a laser specialist; and the rebroadcast of the entire ZBS serial, The Fourth Tower of Inverness, providing an all-night extravaganza on Fri., Jan. 20, beginning at 10:30 pm. The performers on Tuesday Night Live in January are Ablade, a Ghanaian music ensemble, and classical guitarist, David Burgess.

Also, Prof. Robert Garfias will be returning from a recent sojourn to Eastern Europe and, if his schedule permits, he will return to his usual Wednesday night spot. Otherwise, Judy Ellison and Philip Yampolsky will continue.

MORE NOTES

KRAB would very much like to establish a group of readers for doing the Morning Readings, theatre productions, and a variety of spoken word presentations. If you think you are a talented reader and want to audition for the air, call 325-5110 and ask for the program director.

We would also appreciate learning about potentially interesting lectures, concerts, readings, seminars, etc., which you think would be of significance to KRAB listeners. Please call us as much in advance as possible and we will try and have them recorded. There are many occasions when interesting speakers have appeared at campuses, galleries, or auditoriums and we haven't known until it was too late. You can keep us informed as well as the other way around.

Valerie Bloom, formerly of the Dept. of Psychology, UW, and Judy Johnson, Psychiatric Nursing Supervisor at Harborview, discuss the three basic categories of psychiatric medication: anti-anxiety, anti-psychotic, anti-depressant. Phone-in questions will be taken.

11:00 HEMERAPHONIA
 "Where did you get that hat?
 Where did you get that tile?
 Isn't it a nobby one,
 And just the proper style?
 I should like to have one, just the same as that!
 Wher'er I go they shout, 'Hello!'
 Where did you get that hat?"

Adam Woog with music (with the accent on the toe-tappiness of same) until late.

TUESDAY 3

Produced at KRAB every other Tuesday at this time by Allen Sarno and the International News team.

8:00 LECTURES FROM THE NORTHWEST MIND SYMPOSIUM (Part III).

A presentation by Lawrence LeShan, psychotherapist and researcher, who is a popular author and respected lecturer. He has done major research in psychosomatic medicine and is now a full-time researcher in ESP, psychic healing and techniques of meditation.

9:00 CAPTAIN BALTIC'S BOP STOP

Pianist Mary Lou Williams rose to fame with the Andy Kirk orchestra, followed by a long career as arranger for Benny Goodman, Count Basie, Duke Ellington and others. In the 40's, she became closely associated with Thelonious Monk and Bud Powell and advanced with the music. She was inactive for a few years in the 50's, then came back to begin yet another period as a modern and strong, at times "free" pianist. Featured tonight in solo, duo, trio and assorted small groups.

10:30 CHILDREN'S JUSTICE IN WASHINGTON

This begins a series which will explore the mentality and institution of juvenile incarceration. Tonight--"Imprisoning Our Children." Discussion will cover America's attitude toward its juvenile 'offenders,' children's rights under the law, and the validity of incarceration as practiced in Washington state. Features an address by Kenneth Wooden, author of "Weeping in the Playtime of Others." Produced by Mark Elliott.

11:00 THE PROMISCUOUS DREAMER: "Back to NORMANCY" (DEL-LO JOY-O)

Norman Dello Joio (b. 1913) is an American whose music is considered too pretty for many modern critics. But if you like a cross between Gershwin and Hindemith, join Paul Stanbery for these bright, nostalgic sounds of the late '40s and early 50's, when D.J. was in vogue. You'll hear the Pulitzer Prize-winning MEDITATIONS ON ECCLESIASTES and SERENADE, both for strings; the TRIUMPH OF ST. JOAN SYMPHONY, VARIATIONS CHACONNE & FINALE, EPIGRAPH, and NEW YORK PROFILES for full orchestra; concerti for harp (perhaps the most successful ever for this instrument) and piano (FANTASY & VARIATIONS); the chorus, brass, and percussion piece TO ST. CECILIA; the symphonic suite from the TV series AIR POWER, and the VARIATIONS & CAPRICCIO for violin and piano.

4:00 HOW HIGH THE MORNING STAR? The HOMAGE TO HAYDN of Norman Dello Joio introduces a new series, which will play every one of the 104 Haydn Symphonies during 1978, starting with the first four and the mysterious "A" Symphony, in both its orchestral version and as originally known, as String Quartet, Opus 1, #5.

WEDNESDAY 4

6:00 EARLY MUSIC

Stu Witmer brings you music written before anyone was awake. The BBC Radio Newsreel is there at 7:00. Also a book review at 8:45 with Richard Roth.

10:00 MORNING READING

From Nathalie Sarraute's Tropisms. Mme. Sarraute defines "tropisms" as "movements of we are hardly cognizant," which "slip through us on the frontiers of consciousness in the form of undefinable, extremely rapid sensations. They hide behind our gestures, beneath the words we speak, the feelings we manifest, are aware of experiencing, and able to define. They seemed, and still seem to me to constitute the secret source of our existence, in what might be called its nascent state." Read by Kathy Bottoms.

8:00 VOYAGES INTO OCEAN SPACE

Of all the ocean's influences, we notice most of all its effect on the climate. The current hot controversy in climactic research is whether we are heading towards an ice age or a major drought. If you like warm weather, you'll love the private auto -- its emissions will probably increase our average temperature a degree or two F., enough for a dry spell. This lecture, recorded last summer at the Pacific Science Center, talks about the sea's role in making weather. Produced by John Lindemann and Phil Andrus.

9:00 CAPTAIN BALTIC'S BOP STOP

Tonight it's "Jay and Kai," the trombone duo of J.J. Johnson and Kai Winding. Originally scheduled for November, but cancelled because Baltic was "snowed in" (or was it "snowed out"?).
